

Clip Art

Finding a unique gift for the men in your life is not always easy. If his desk is at the office or at home, chances are he can use a little help keeping things organized and at hand. These clip boards are useful, masculine and easy to make. I found two basic clip boards one made from wood and the other metal.

The only supplies you need to complete the project are fabric, spray adhesive and an iron!

How To Get Organized Creatively

- Cut the fabric to fit with enough overlap to cover the back
- Iron out any wrinkles and creases
- For the plaid fabric, I folded the fabric up to form a pocket
- Spray the adhesive on the clip board
- Be sure to spread out newspaper to catch any over spray
- Work on the front first; use your fingers to smooth out wrinkles
- Cut fabric around the clip at top
- Fold under raw edges and glue in place
- Repeat process on the back

The metal clip board didn't need a pocket since magnets hold everything in place.

Covered clip boards make practical gifts for anyone who appreciates a simple way to get organized. They can sit on the desk, hang on the wall and are portable. He even can take it to meetings.

Do you have any female friends or family members who need a little help organizing too? Just choose a feminine fabric and you are on your way!
