

Welcome Spring Time

Setting a lovely spring time table for your Easter breakfast or dinner can become part of your annual tradition with a few simple steps. Remember, it's OK to set a table for the season or a holiday. It doesn't have to match your interior decorating. Start with a sage green sheer curtain over a basic white cloth. Most drapery panels are big enough to fit many dining room tables or you can cut it to fit. If you don't sew, finish the edges with a fusible hem tape.

What could say spring time better than this charming dinner plate with the yellow border?

The pale blue grid lines instantly change to green with the addition of the stripe salad plate!

Green damask napkins are softly folded and tied with a bit of raffia. I added a pink silk rose for an additional burst of color.

You could continue with a yellow and green theme with your flowers and candles, but adding pink makes the setting more festive. Fresh flowers always add a color punch to any table and candle light is appropriate for daytime or evening meals.

Always be on the look out for pretty cut glass goblets that can serve water, wine or even milk. Offer each guest a decorated egg in their own personal egg cup.

Mixing and matching plates, glassware and linens gives you so many more options when setting your table! Get creative.
