

Gather The Goods—Part 2

Last time I came up with new ideas for drawer storage. Unfortunately, not everything fits nicely in a drawer. What do you do with the bulky items that you use regularly and want to keep handy?

Folding wine racks come to the rescue! With a little ingenuity, almost anything can have a new purpose.

Wine racks come in a variety of sizes and styles. The folding racks not only store wine at room temperature and keep the corks wet, they are great in kitchens and bathrooms.

I find kitchen paper products hard to organize if you don't have an extra drawer. Since the boxes are mostly the same size, the wine rack works beautifully. Put it on a pantry shelf or in the cabinet for easy access.

Being organized when you are entertaining makes for less stress. Don't have a container to hold the silverware at a buffet table? Lay the wine rack on its side and voila—instant holder. If you plan to move it around, be sure to set it on a tray.

The wine rack is also perfect in the bathroom. It's as though it was made to hold rolled towels. It keeps them orderly in the linen closet or handy for guests when on display.

Who doesn't have tons of toiletries? They seem to multiply, especially if you share the bathroom with others. A wine rack on a shelf keeps them visible, accessible and organized. Set one up for everyone in the household. You will eliminate the "that's my shampoo" arguments!
