

Can-Do-Table

Sometimes you find a great thing at Goodwill and suddenly you find several. That was the case with these little rattan stools. One even had its original price tag still intact ($24.99)! If you can believe it, I found three stools at different stores for only $2.99 each.

They were all in good condition and I really like the natural finish. They would be great on the porch or in the yard at a picnic. However, if I wanted them to have a different look, I could have easily spray painted them to match any décor or party theme.

Another idea I thought that could give them a different look, would be to add a new pillow. I already had a round one, but a piece of fabric, some fiberfill and a few stitches on a sewing machine and you can whip one up in no time.

These stools make great tables too. I used a round pizza pan from my cupboard to create an even surface, and a napkin keeps the coffee cup and plate from sliding around.

For a more exotic look, I flipped the pizza tray over and covered it with a scrap of leftover leopard fabric. It becomes the perfect side table for reading or chatting over a glass of wine.

The possibilities are endless! So have some fun with the items you find at Goodwill. You never know what they could be....
